The Championships were finally held on 28 April and despite publicity at the Nottingham Congress the previous weekend only eight turned up. The under 18 title was won by Chris Dunworth and the under 16 by Jason Crockett (who is only ten!) after an all play all tournament.

The full result was C.Dunworth 7/7 D.Blecher 6/7 R.Eames 5/7 J.Crockett 4/7 L.Sewell 3/7 M.Kennedy 2/7 N.Gasrani 1/7 L.Dunstone 0/7.

As a personal note I should like to add that I am amazed so few players turn up for these events. Any youngster hoping to improve and do well chess should play as often as possible, preferably against better players enjoying themselves at the same time. The best way to do this is by entering this type of tournament where they get many games in a day, a chance to meet and make friends and if they enter a tournament above their own age group they do not feel under any pressure to win. Should they win then great but if not, it is a pleasant day. I brought my son up on this principle and it is the same principle used by the B.C.F. Junior training squad.

Any child playing chess for his school should be entering the Under 12 and 14 tournaments; and any child finishing in the top half of those should be playing in the Under 16 and 18 tournaments. Why don't they?

Parents do not even have to give up a day: they drop the child off he or she is small or send them on their own if older. Those parents who do stay are however most welcome.

Next year's Under 16 and 18 tournaments will again be on the first Sunday in March at Lenton Community Centre, Willoughby Street, Nottingham. Put it in your diary now.
